LOOKING AHEAD

A lasting expression of your values

You do not need to be wealthy to make a difference. Gifts of different sizes can contribute to a future of access, connection and equity.

"A gift in your Will can help create a future where Deaf people have the access, connection and equity they deserve, for generations to come."

IMPACT AT A GLANCE

Your legacy, part of Deaf lives

A flexible gift in your Will can help Deaf Aotearoa respond to future priorities while supporting language, access, participation and Deaf leadership across Aotearoa.

Language, identity and belonging

Help Deaf children and young people grow with NZSL, confidence, identity and connection through First Signs, youth opportunities and Deaf role models.

Access, information and independence

Support access to information, services and opportunities in NZSL, helping Deaf people navigate everyday life with greater choice and confidence.

Rights, leadership and participation

Strengthen Deaf-led advocacy, protect and promote NZSL, amplify Deaf voices and help remove barriers to participation across Aotearoa.

TAKING THE NEXT STEP

Choose the approach that suits you

Consider the people and causes you want to provide for, and who you will appoint as executor. Review your Will when your life or family circumstances change.

Speak with a solicitor

A solicitor can help you prepare or update your Will to reflect your wishes and circumstances.

Create your Will online, at no cost

We understand that creating or updating a Will can feel overwhelming, so we've partnered with New Zealand's most popular Will-writing platform Everywill to help make the process easier.

CONSIDERING A GIFT

What type of gift is right for you?

You can choose a gift that fits your wishes. This may include all or part of what remains after loved ones, debts and other gifts are provided for. A solicitor can help you decide.

A percentage

A nominated percentage of your whole estate.

A specific amount

You can leave a nominated sum of money.

A specific asset

You may be able to leave a particular asset, such as shares or property.
